Cash-for-crash gang's £5.3m fraud results in 22 guilty men

BY JULIA SUTTON

editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

TWENTY-TWO Luton fraudsters have been convicted in one of the largest car insurance scam rings ever seen.
In total 40 people were involved in the £5.3 million 'cash-for-crash' swindle, the full scale of which was finally revealed following a mam-moth five-year police investigation. The intricate 'web of deceit' was spun out of Swift Accident and Credit Hire, based in Leagrave Road, Luton, using a supply of drivers who included family members and people with long-standing connections with the conspirators

In some cases road collisions were engineered to involve unsuspecting motorists. In others, claims were made about 'accidents' which were entirely fictitious.

The scams operated in different ways and involved collisions being either induced, staged, faked or exaggerated, and the gang used land at Long Meadow Farm, Chalton, to store the damaged vehi-

Bedfordshire Police's Operation Exhort investigation also resulted in the uncovering of a mortgage fraud. On Thursday, three of the last four defendants were found guilty at Luton Crown Court - meaning the legal barriers to publishing details of the extraordinary case were final-

Bedfordshire Police and industry partner the Insurance Fraud Bureau (IFB) found the criminals hailed from a variety of professions including the legal, medical and motor trades.

It took three years for all the defendants to appear at court at separate hearings, culminating in this week's convictions.

Andrew Richer, Senior Investigating Officer and Assistant

Chief Constable of Bedfordshire Police, said: "In 2006 Luton was a known hotspot for offences, also known as 'cash for crash', but in 2011 that is no longer the case.

"The case had grown considerably in size and complexity since the initial lines of investigation were pursued in May 2006.

"This was a calculated and systematic fraud perpetrated on numerous victims.

"This kind of fraud substantially inflates insurance premiums for every honest driver in the country.

"I am pleased that working with our industry partner, the IFB, we have been able to bring offenders to iustice and confiscate substantial assets and money which were the proceeds of crime.

■ Turn to pages 2 and 3 for the full story on how the criminals - some of whom attended a Luton mosque - ran their elaborate scam.

Final police bill for EDL demo was nearly £2r

TAXPAYERS forked out nearly £2 million for policing of the English Defence League's Luton march in February – twice what was originally thought. Around 1,500 officers provided security as 2,000 EDL members descended on the town, while 1,000 Unite Against Fascism counter-protesters also attended.

It was Luton's largest ever policing operation, and initially Bedfordshire Police said the security arrangements would cost up to £1m. But Luton on Sunday can reveal the eventual sum totalled £1,916,288.

The Home Office has agreed to reimburse the force for the full expenditure.

Peter Conniff, chairman of Bedfordshire Police Authority said: "When we first talked about how much it would cost we were only estimating. We didn't realise how much extra help we would need. I think we had 28 other police forces send us help and we had to pay them for that.

"The other big expense was having to pay for horses from other forces. They are hugely expensive, so that put up the cost. We needed to keep the town safe and it was one of the most successful police operations we've had.'

Gang faked crashes

BY JULIA SUTTON

editor@lenmedia.co.uk

THE 'crash for cash' scam which saw millions made from faked, induced, staged or exaggerated road accidents involved the sons of a mosque Imam.

The father of Saraj Qazi and Hafiz Chishti, who was one of the gang's ringleaders, is Imam Aziz, of Jamia Islamia Ghousia Mosque, in Westhourne Road Luton Westbourne Road, Luton.

Chishti ran part of the illegal operation out of an accident management company in Leagrave Road. Qazi set up bank accounts and rented premises in Luton and Reading.

Prosecutor David Farrell QC said: "Swift was a vehicle for dishonesty. We have not come across a single claim which was not dishonest at least in part."

The motor fraud investigation also led to the uncovering of a mortgage scam. Chishti obtained money transfers totalling £659,395 by giving false earnings details. The civil engineering student claimed to be a self-employed builder earning £70,000 a year.

Qazi obtained £570,845 for four mortgages, while Majid Hussain, 34, of Wychwood Avenue, Luton, got £652,595 for three mortgages.

Judge Michael Kay QC told Chishti and Qazi they had brought shame on their family, saying: "You have shown yourselves to be thoroughly dishonest - motivated by greed in pursuit of easy money. You were driven by ambition to get rich quick."

It was said in court that the brothers attended the mosque, but their father denied this.

Imam Aziz said: "I would like to make it very clear my sons had no connection to the centre. I had no connection to the investigation and the centre was not involved in any way.

"My sons have repaid their debt to society and the centre was never involved."

Two other sets of brothers - Majid

Hussain and Wajid Hussain, of Westbourne Road, Luton, and Kamsan Mahmood and Istafa Hussain, of Lincoln Road, Luton – attended the mosque.

The police operation, codenamed Exhort, was launched in 2006 with the help of the Insurance Fraud Bureau. Homes in Bedfordshire, Hertfordshire and Berkshire were raided in November of that year after experts analysed suspicious claims.

Thursday saw the case's final three convictions at Luton Crown Court. Peter Charlery, 45, and Mahmood, 42, both used Long Meadow Farm, Chalton, as a storage site for the damaged vehicles. They were both found guilty of conspiracy to defraud following a seven week trial.

Istafa Hussain, 35, of Lincoln Road, Luton, was also found guilty of the same charge.

All were remanded in custody for sentencing on April 27. Irtiza Fazal, 40, also of Lincoln Road, was found not guilty by the jury.

The earlier court proceedings could not be published for legal reasons until this week and for many of the defendants the other cases have gone on for so long they are now out of prison.

The entire investigation resulted in 33 defendants pleading guilty to a variety of offences in connection with the £5.3 million insurance fraud. The lengthy hearings also netted lawyers for the legally-aided defendants hundreds of thousands of pounds.

The remaining eight pleaded not guilty at two separate trials – seven have been convicted and one acquitted. A further eight people were cautioned for their involvement in the crime.

Insurance Fraud Bureau director
Glen Marr said: "On behalf of the industry, we would like to acknowledge and thank Bedfordshire Police for their sterling work on this operation.

"We will continue to find, pursue and expose criminals involved in organised insurance fraud. The message is loud and clear - seek to defraud an insurer and you risk serious repercussions, to include prosecution and seizure of assets.

How the scam worked

THE road 'accidents' were brought about in a number of

- different ways. They were:

 Induced an innocent third party hits a car that stops suddenly.
- Staged drivers in both vehicles were party to the scam.
- Faked they did not happen at all, but a claim was made.
- Exaggerated with claims made for loss or damage that did not occur. Inflated personal injury claims were also made.

Long Meadow Farm, in Chalton, north of Luton, was used to store the damaged vehicles.

The car insurance fraud centred on accident management company Swift Accident and Credit hire, based in Leagrave Road, Luton.

Hafiz Chishti was one of the principal parties at Swift. He used different names and was seen at Long Meadow Farm.

His brother, Sarai Oazi, set up bank accounts and rented premises at Luton and Reading. Vehicle assessor Christopher Fennessy was used, in most cases to make fake accident reports.

The gang used a supply of drivers – some were family members and others had longstanding connections with the conspirators.

Election hopeful hits out at her own party

EXCLUSIVE

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

A CANDIDATE in the upcoming local elections has slammed her party claiming they are not helping her with her campaign.Nasreen Imtiaz, 65, is standing as a Liberal Democrat candidate in Saints ward, Luton, on May 5 but says she has not been offered leaflets by the party to deliver to voters.

The party claim she has been given everything needed and there simply has been a 'clash of personalities' with the ward's other two Lib Dem candidates.

Mrs Imtiaz moved to Luton in 1998 and first stood for election as a member of the Conservative party in 1999.

But last year she wanted to help Lib Dem Luton South candidate Lord Hussain with his campaign, and therefore had to switch parties in order to do so.

Mrs Imtiaz (pictured) said: "During last year's general election, Cllr Qurban Hussain came to my house and asked me to help with his campaign but as I was a member of the Conservative Party I needed to join the Liberal Democrats.

"After that I decided to stand in Dallow ward in the local elections but they wouldn't allow me to stand there.

"They offered me Saints ward but since then they have not helped with anything. I asked for a list of registered voters so I could visit them but they wouldn't send it to me so I had to go to the Town Hall myself and get it.

"As I am standing for a party I can't make my own leaflets, I have to use what they provide. So I asked Cllr Anna distribute them and I have never been sent them. The election is in three weeks and nobody knows I am standing.

"I see this (highlighting the issue in LoS) as a last resort so I can let people know in my ward that I am one of their

"I think the party wants the other two candidates, not me, to win as they are from Kotli in Pakistan and can get the votes from all their people.

"I don't think we should be playing Pakistani politics in Luton. I stand for everyone, not just my community but every other background in Saints ward." Cllr Barry Neale, chairman of Luton Borough Council's Luton Liberal Democrats, said: "Nasreen is part of a team of three candidates in Saints ward, she was selected by the party a few weeks back. She has been provided with help and advice from the party and from her

She has been provided material to deliver as I understand it. She is wanting to do her own thing and there is, maybe, a clash of personalities with other candidates. She has been provided with all the help and assistance by the party, includ-ing canvass material and leaflets."

Lib Dem leader and MP in spat over AV system

EXCLUSIVE

christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

A LABOUR MP has defended his 'no to AV' stance after coming under fire from the leader of the Liberal Democrat group in Luton.

Gavin Shuker, who represents Luton South, was criticised by Councillor David Franks who wrote him a letter last week questioning his stance against Alternative Vote.

Last year, Mr Shuker was chosen as the Labour party's General Election candidate for the constituency via AV – but maintains first-past-the-post is a better system.

AV is when candidates are ranked in order of preferences instead of an 'X' in the current first-past-the-post system.

In his letter to Mr Shuker, Cllr Franks wrote: 'You were selected by the local Labour Party as candidate for Luton South using the Alternative Vote method of elections.

'Why, please, do you think the Alternative Vote system is good enough for you to use to be selected as a candidate but is too good for Luton voters to use when electing their MP?

'In the 2010 General Election only one third of those who voted supported you and two thirds voted against you. 14,725 voted for you, 27,491 voted for other candidates and 17,750 people did not vote at all.

'Do you think the old fashioned first-past-the-post system is best because it is the only reason you actually got elected?' A national referendum on

A national referendum on whether AV will be used in this country will be held on May 5.

Mr Shuker said: "Once again Cllr Franks is flailing around to try and distract people from the real story of the upcoming election – the massive collapse of support for the Lib Dems that is evident on doorsteps across Luton.

"I came first in my selection, and first in the General Election. With that record I'd be delighted to fight the Lib Dems under any electoral system.

"Labour selects parliamentary candidates using AV. I'd prefer it to be done by first-past-the-post, but by extension of Cllr Franks' argument, he should be resigning as a councillor because he was elected under first-past-the-post.

"Perhaps Cllr Franks should spend less time trying to fix the voting system in the Lib Dems' favour and more time representing his constituents. It's the best chance he now has of saving his skin on May 5."

Cloudy2Clear Windows - Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director
Billy Harley feels that it's all about service.
'Our product is simple.
If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have strugled since last year and I honestly feel that during he good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which,
in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Luton, Dunstable and Stevenage areas and Billy is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

'Lazy gardener' opts for plastic surgery

Dig in – it's dirt cheap

IT will be first come, first serve at Household Recycling Centres in Luton next month when the borough council gets into the spirit of National Compost Week (May 1 – 7) by dishing out the dirt.

The scheme closes the recycling loop by collecting green garden waste from local households, turning it into high quality soil conditioner and then returning it to residents to spread as compost on their gardens. The benefits are that no good quality waste material gets tipped into landfill sites, local gardens enjoy a really rich soil improver and, best of all, it's completely free!

Call the recycling department at Luton Borough Council on 01582 546937 or visit www.luton.gov.uk for more details of HRCs that are taking part in the free compost collection scheme.

HOMES AND GARDENS SPECIAL

FOR green-fingered gardeners in Bedfordshire, Chelsea Flower Show is the horticultural highlight of the year.

horticultural highlight of the year.
For Jane Thomas, from Cranfield, it's a total waste of time and effort. "You'd have to pay me to go there!" she says.

pay me to go there!" she says.
Jane, 36, is a self-styled 'lazy gardener' and proud of it. For her, the weekend is no time to be tickling tomatoes and pricking out petunias. Jane is more likely to be planting up another batch of plastic pansies.

"I'm a single mum," says Jane "and I work full-time. I want to be able to enjoy my garden this summer, not in five years time. It was a beautiful garden when I inherited it from my mum, then everything died off and it became rubbish. Now I'm turning it into a prize-winning example of a wonderful lazy garden."

Jane has taken out anything living that survived the initial period of neglect and is designing a garden that includes plastic trees, ivy, shrubs and hanging baskets. She says: "There's no watering required, it copes with rain, snow and frost and it provides all year-round colour. What's not to love?"

You can watch Jane's plastic paradise blossom over the next few weeks at www.lutondunstable.co.uk/homesandgardens

Pool plan travel worries

SIR - I have got to take issue with an item in the latest Labour News.
The Lib Dems have never said no

The Lib Dems have never said no to an Olympic pool in Luton. What they have objected to, and objected to strongly, together with many residents, is to where it is being built.

The A505 is one of the busiest roads in the town - people have reported having to wait more than ten minutes to get from one side to the other and the Aquatic Centre is going to add considerably to the volume of traffic.

However, perhaps the most important objection to the siting of the centre in Stopsley is the fact that residents on the other side of town, in the poorer areas (such as Dallow, Farley South and Wardown wards) are going to have great difficulty getting to it. For families without cars it will require two bus journeys and with fares increasing and services being cut, I would imagine it will make their visits to the centre very few and far between.

Perhaps our local Labour party will be honest enough to tell us in the next Labour News just how much they are having to borrow to pay for the Aquatic Centre.

One of the outstanding things about the Labour Party of my child-hood was the way in which they empathised with the poorer sections of society - do the councillors and MPs in today's Labour party even know the meaning of the word?

Ask another question

SIR - If local elections and a referendum can be held in the same place on the same day, why can't the referendum, reported to cost an additional £80 million, contain more than one question?

Perhaps something along the lines of: 'Do you want to bail out Portugal?'

Richard Shaw Evelyn Road, Dunstable

Thanks for your support

SIR - I would like to thank the voters in Limbury for their generous support over the last 18 years, many of whom I got to know, and have worked with through meetings, committees, visits to their homes and surgeries.

I have decided to call it a day and to allow others the opportunity to carry on the work.

I am therefore asking for your continuing support for Jackie Burnett and Stephen Lewis in the local elections on May 5.

I have enjoyed representing Limbury at county level and more recently on Luton Borough Council and have achieved with your support numerous enhancements for this ward.

I need not remind you that there are some dark and gloomy days ahead, and no doubt you will keep abreast with developments, and the tremendous impact they will have on you and your families. We are beginning to witness the gradual and systematic erosion of a good quality life that we have built up over the years.

LuDun decision 'scraping bottom of barrel'

SIR - I write in utter disgust at Central Bedfordshire Council's actions in closing the LuDun sheltered workshop and throwing 24 disabled people out of a job in the middle of a recession.

How ruthless and cynical to use the excuse of central government cuts to do what had been planned all along by Central Beds and its predecessor Bedfordshire County Council.

Set up in 1956 as an independent local charity with every modern machine needed, LuDun manufactured items as diverse as wooden toys and surgical boots.

The trustees were drawn from local industry, the medical profession and local government. Their only concern was to provide a viable means of employment for people with disabilities.

What to do? Sort the problem out and restore some forward commercial thinking? Far too difficult. Just get rid of it, close it down.

The recession is simply being used as a convenient smokescreen.

When I worked there I did some cost analysis and was horrified to find that many of LuDun's products were being sold at one third the true cost of making them.

No wonder the factor was making a loss but was that the fault of the people on the shop floor who are now being asked to pay with their jobs? I have also read that LuDun is an 'outdated model'. If that is the case, why is a similar workshop in Poole operated by Dorset County Council doing so well? When the weakest in society are

When the weakest in society are cast aside in the name of bigger and better financial interests we are truly scraping the bottom of the barrel.

Everyone involved - High Town residents; those who see the Drill Hall as part of Luton's history; those who in good faith believed they had purchased the site and may now be entitled to compensation all have been led up the garden path and let down by the council.

Meanwhile, Labour still refuse to state their intentions - they have only 'suspended' the sale - presumably, again, until the elections are over.

For someone with such a poor grasp to accuse us of using race issues is disgraceful.

But people increasingly expect this sort of thing now from a group who are digging up the town and holding up traffic for an unwanted Luton Dunstable Busway; failing to open an Olympic Pool in time for the Olympics; handing consultants £13 million; massively raised senior salary levels while removing allowances to front line staff; and who set up a Department of Cuts costing residents £1.25 million a year. I asked about progress on the findings of this report at the February Council meeting, and we were promised a full report in April.

It never arrived, because Labour took it off the agenda. Perhaps it is just coincidence, then, that one cause of tension identified was when buildings that have traditionally been used by and seen as belonging to the whole community are sold off to groups of, or mainly representing, a single faith and that this had damaging effects.

The examples were in the leader's own Lewsey ward, but the request to urgently re-examine policies on a wider basis, and the parallel with the Drill Hall fiasco, couldn't be clearer.

Labour's response? They'll consider the much trumpeted, rightly praised report in June, after the elections. . . perhaps. . . as it's slightly inconvenient at the moment. Moreover, it's no 'politics of race' to

Why are they standing?

One lives in Dunstable, but the other lives in Leighton Buzzard.

I can understand why someone who lives locally might want to stand, but why on earth should someone who lives in a totally different town want to represent a ward in Dunstable?

I have to ask: Why are they standing? Is it a way of spreading the vote, to confuse voters, so councillors who have been loyal to this ward for years are not elected?

I have just seen the tail end of an election advertisement - not sure which party it was - on TV where the odds of the third person in the first lot of votes could win on a second count of second votes.

All Saints have initiated the three tier, two tier schools debate again making this ward a key to the future of Central Beds' Lower and Middle Schools.

Leighton Buzzard had strong support for two tier schools, whereas Dunstable's support was mainly for keeping the three tier structure. Lee Dean

Such a great response

SIR - The RSPCA would like to thank everyone who responded to our appeal to find people to foster pets belonging to victims of domestic abuse through the charity's PetRetreat service.

The appeal was launched on April 6 and the RSPCA was completely overwhelmed with the response every two minutes someone called the appeal hotline wanting to apply to be a pet fosterer.

This is much more than we had expected and we are thrilled that so many people have come forward to help. But, with only 80 active fosterers throughout England and Wales and PetRetreat staff handling 100 calls every week, we urgently need more people to come forward.

RSPCA PetRetreat temporarily fosters pets belonging to victims of domestic abuse who are moving into short-term accommodation or a refuge which does not allow pets.

All too often, pets can be a barrier preventing people from escaping abuse as they do not want to leave them behind through fear of what may happen to them.

Airport hit by delay over security deal

EXCLUSIVE

ui.straccia@lutononsundav.co.u

FUTURE security levels for Luton Airport have yet to be finalised.

While Bedfordshire Police Authority had originally hoped to conclude negotiations over policing arrangements at the airport by early this month, a deal still has not been reached.

Historically Bedfordshire taxpayers provided a £400,000 slice every year towards security costs at the airport, with a grant also being provided by central Government.

The police authority said this was unfair as Luton Airport flight passengers coming from outside the county were not contributing as much as they should.

A review of airport policing led to central Government providing all funding from April 1, with costs being backdated from whenever agreement between the airport and police authority is reached.

Authority chairman Peter Conniff said: "The security arrangements at all airports are very complex.

"Therefore a great deal of negotiation needs to take place before they can be permanently agreed.

"I look forward to this being finalised so the airport authority is solely responsible for financing for security at the airport.
"When the final decision has

"When the final decision has been made, the costs will be charged to the airport backdated from the start of the financial year.

"The airport will pick up the bill from April 1, even if the negotiations finish in June or July, although we are continuing to do it at the moment. We had been aiming for early this month as the target for settling on security levels at the airport, but the negotiations are still ongoing."

The deadline for all airports

The deadline for all airports across the country to reach agreement with their local police authorities is April 29.

Luton Airport spokesman Oli Jaycock said: "Until we know some outcomes, there's no need to say anything."

Life is 'no problem' residents tell cops

POLICE officers spent an entire day visiting more than 1,300 homes to discuss people's problems - and were told there were hardly any.

Operation Vision returned to the streets of Luton on Tuesday when there were 'only a few issues raised, mainly around parking and other forms of anti-social behaviour'.

In total more than 700 people had the chance to discuss their priorities and community issues with Bedfordshire Police.

RATED OUTSTANDING:

Ashcroft High School

Why five schools have reason to be cheerful

BY LUI STRACCIA

lui.straccia@lutononsundav.co.uk

OFSTED has unusually released reports for five schools in just one week.

The schools, all in Luton, were inspected at the same time last month, and were generally assessed as being good or even better

Ashcroft High School was rated 'outstanding', Cardinal Newman Catholic School and Lea Manor and Stopsley High Schools all good with outstanding features, and Putteridge High School was said to be satisfactory with good features.

Ashcroft headteacher Monica Austin said: "We understand that outstanding does not mean perfect, and we are passionate about improving learning at Ashcroft even further."

Lea Manor Headteacher Christine Lenihan said: "The progress the school has made in recent years would not have been possible without the strong support of staff, governors, students, families and the community."

Inspectors at Cardinal Newman Catholic School noted 'its very positive ethos' which 'greatly assists the academic and personal development of every student'. The report says: 'The very large

The report says: 'The very large majority of parents and carers speak very highly of the school and the support for their children.

Their moral, social, and cultural development is outstanding.'
Headteacher Jane Crow said:

Headteacher Jane Crow said:
"This is a happy school where staff and students have good relationships based on a genuine belief that every child matters and the desire to see everyone become the best that they can be."

At Stopsley, the report said pupils of all abilities are 'enthusiastic about learning', 'behave well', 'make good progress' and are 'improving year on year'.

Headteacher Gillian Bryan said: "Uknow the inspectors particularly."

Headteacher Gillian Bryan said: "I know the inspectors particularly enjoyed meeting our students and hearing their very positive views on the school. The governors, staff and students are all very pleased with the outcome."

At Putteridge, the inspectors said: 'Improvements in the teaching, learning and the curriculum have helped to ensure that students are now on track to achieve the school's challenging targets.'

Putteridge headteacher Helen Beauchamp said: "The inspectors praised our work on community cohesion and equality of opportunity and said how impressed they were with how well the students respected each other and valued the diversity found within the school."

Martin Pratt, Luton Borough Council's Corporate Director for Children and Learning, said: "It was unusual for five Ofsted inspections to take place simultaneously in Luton.

"Luton schools have a strong history of working together collaboratively to improve the education experience and outcomes for young people, and these reports reflect that shared approach and commitment to partnership working."

'Valuable' new centre

opens for youngsters

BY CHRISTINA JOHNSON

A NEW youth centre which offers a range of educational and recreational facilities to get people involved has been officially opened.

The Lea Manor Youth Centre, in Northwell Drive,

Luton, will also have health professionals on hand to offer confidential advice.

The facility is open Mondays to Fridays from 11am-9.30pm, with a variety of clubs and courses running throughout each day.

It will also host projects and trips during half-term breaks and the summer holidays for people aged 13 to 19, or up to 25 years for those with disabilities. Abdul Chaudery, head of the centre, said: "The new centre will provide a safe and fun environment for young people to meet, have fun and get involved with community projects.

"It is great to now have the centre built onto the school, meaning that Lea Manor's students have a valuable resource on their doorstep.
"There is something for everyone at the centre, and we would strongly encourage young people to head down there and see what it has to offer for them."

For more information, call the centre on 01582 579714 or email Abdul Chaudery on abdulghafoor.chaudery@ luton.gov.uk

Day will tee-off and help Marie Curie

A GOLF club will hold a charity open week to raise money for Marie Curie Cancer care.

Caddington Golf Club, in Chaul End Road, is hosting the week-long event, beginning on July 25, for the third year in a row, having raised more than £15,000 for Medi Cinema and the Willow Foundation in 2009 and 2010.

Each year has enjoyed its own success and the participation of famous players, and the club said it is hopeful of being joined by Tara Dyer-Smith from the Ladies European Tour. A Ladies Day will take place on July 28 and will involve a healthy lunch and relaxing 'apres' golf activities including massage and mini manicure, with Revive Beauty Spa.

Breakfast starts at 10am, and tee-off time is 10.45am. The day ends with a presentation and raffle at 5.30pm. Call now to book your place on 01582 415573 or email christine.goode@ntlworld.com

WASN'T exactly euphoric to hear about a survey which shows that banks are now less popular with the British public than journalists.

It would be interesting to know exactly just who the public is but I suspect it will include a number of people who deserved their spot in the media limelight due to their

Whether my profession is liked or not has never bothered me in nearly 40 years in the business.

It's true there are some who draw the line at sitting next to me at a football match, but I have never been left alone at the bar. There's nothing in life I actually hate, but it didn't take me long to come up with my own list of irritants. And sorry for being predictable, but the banking fraternity has worked tirelessly over decades to earn the wrath of the man in the street and take the No 1 slot

It was more than 20 odd years ago that I moved south and walked through the doors of one of the major banks to switch my account.

In those days you got to know the staff and as time went on you might even stop in the street and pass a cheery hello with the teller you trusted with your life savings. There were no £1million bonuses floating around town centres.

Recently I popped into the same bank and there weren't enough people to fill a tricycle.

The lack of face-to-face human contact and the advanced technological age have made it easier for the banks to rip you off.

Statements come electroncally, so you only notice you have been

Banks have done enough to deserve public's wrath

diddled if you are tied to a computer screen - and then have to spend half the day ringing a call centre to complain.

Last week I ordered an amount of foreign currency and paid by cash

When I checked my account someone, my bank initially blamed the currency provider, had added on an extra fiver.

Finally, my bank admitted guilt but still couldn't explain their charge except to say it is in the 'terms and conditions'. So I can spend £500 on a holiday at no extra cost but because Í want currency I am subject to legalised robbery.

I don't see what business it is of my bank as to what I am spending my money on in the first place. They certainly should not have carte blanche to impose charges at their whim.

Not far behind the banks are. . insurance companies. My household contents renewal pops through the letterbox, and the company will kindly renew without me having to lift a finger. Not this year they aint. I'm on holiday and with time on my hands. I realise I can get the same cover for half the price elsewhere.

When I rang my current insurer to cancel, they said they could offer me a loyalty bonus to stay - yeah that's only because I rumbled their little scam of trying to slip through sky-high premiums because I was too busy to notice.

They didn't disagree and said it was a common practice by all insurers but all would cut the premiums if customers bothered to query them. I told them it was my common practice to give this type of behaviour the

Finally, the dreaded overseas call centres. I rarely call them, but they just won't leave me alone. Last week Kevin, Peter and John all phoned from overseas. Two worked for the Banking Association of the UK and one for a mobile phone company.

I could hardly understand a word any of the operatives said, not helped by the time delay on the link, and it took me some moments to realise they were initially asking me if I was Mr Geeeeeeel. Peter wanted my banking details for security purposes, Kevin was cut off with a flea in his ear, while John simply asked to discuss my mobile phone account but was lost when I told him I didn't own a mobile

They call so often – almost every day – and probably get their fair share of abuse. I wonder who is top of their hate list? Probably the British public!

Love 2 be Charmed takes R Factor title won The Mall's Retail Factor 2011 competition backed by Luton on Sunday.

The start-up business, launched er 2010 only October Amanda Turner and Suzanne Gilmore, of Caddington, scooped the accolade after a rigorous selection process and judging criteria. Love 2 be Charmed traded on a retail merchandising unit (RMU), in The Mall Luton for two weeks during March and this month, receiving fantastic feedback from shoppers and con-firming to the judging panel that it indeed had the 'Retail Factor'.

Amanda and Suzanne will claim a prize that includes two months free trading space in The Mall, valuable start-up training from the National Skills Academy and a Sony Vaio laptop.

Having now been entered into the national stage of the competi-tion for the chance to win a place on the prestigious retail training course at BSSA Oxford S u m m e r school, the duo are waiting to hear if they will go on to further success.

A m a n d a said: "It is overwhelming to have been chosen as this year's winner, opportunity to trade in eagerly anticipating our launch."

LoS editor Chris Gill said: "It has been a pleasure working with The Mall during the competition and we have been very impressed with all of this year's finalists. "However, we believe

"However, we believe Love 2 be Charmed firmly stood out during its trial period and showed an abundance of retail potential. "We will therefore be looking forward to see-ing the ladies trading in The Mall Luton over the coming months.'

Douglass, Lavinia marketing manager at The Mall Luton, said: "The response we had to the competition was fantastic and we are confident that in Amanda and Suzanne we have unearthed the retailers of tomorrow.

"It is very encouraging to see so much entrepreneurial talent in our local community and will be a great addition to The Mall Luton.'

LONDON

IT'S official. Celebrity culture has gotten way out of hand.

Now, I'd be the first to say that I wouldn't kick Angelina Jolie out of bed, but the chances, quite frankly, are somewhere between slim and uh-oh, something has seriously gone wrong with the space/time continuum.

Still, the next best thing is certainly not be to defile a Madame Tussauds model of the women.

Yet there I was, trudging around the famous old London tourist trap with foreign visitors giggling and blushing with glee as they seemingly got to sec-ond base with an inanimate Kate Moss and an all too unsuspecting copy of Kylie Minogue.

Apparently I was the only one who seemed to have noticed that the cringeo-meter had rocketed to full-blown, code-red, dad-is-dancing-at-a-wedding status.

Nevertheless, I managed to shuffle further into the macabre museum and do what Allied troops have so far failed to achieve, and find Colonel Gaddafi – though the Libyan dictator's model hadn't been updated to the plastic surgery horror show that is his actual visage. Funny, as you'd have thought, this adaptation would have been quite simple - just let the work experience kid loose on his effigy with a blow torch for five minutes – job done. But the North African warlord's presence wasn't the most jaw-dropping inclusion of a rather disturbing despot corner, housing all your genocidal 'favourites' like Mugabe, Saddam Hussein and Adolf Hitler. I jest of course, but only because this is where my second bout of what-is-this-worldcoming-to - it is struck when there was a queue of kiddiewinks waiting to have their picture taken with the mousta-chioed man who masterminded the Holocaust. And if that's not a damning summation of the standard of education these days then nothing is!

Still, it is admirable how life-like Gaddafi's boat race aside - that the Tussauds waxworks were, down to the last detail.

I'd like to say the same about the Radisson Edwardian Grafton Hotel on London's Tottenham Court Road – the principal reason for this visit – but I can't. It was just the little things mind you, but when you're talking about a luxury hotel, they all add up.

I realise what you're now about to read will garner absolutely no sympa-thy for what was essentially a free overnight jolly, for members of the press, to the country's capital in a time of austerity – but I didn't feel sufficiently fussed over.

If you think about it though, if you are shelling out for anything these days then you'd want every last penny's worth. That being the case, these small blots on the copybook just manifested themselves into a hotelier's checklist of what not to do when inviting a scoop of journalists to review your establishment.

Don't get me wrong, if you're planning a trip to The Smoke to hit the shops and

JAMES Cunliffe stayed at the Radisson Edwardian Grafton Hotel 130 Tottenham Court Road, London W1T 5AY Telephone: +44 (0)20 7388 4131 www.radissonedwardian.com

Rooms cost from £125 excluding VAT

see a few sights, then the deluxe room was impeccable and spacious, the bed was comfy, the TV flat and there were some sweet treats awaiting us on arrival.

But, bearing in mind I was invited there to tell you good readers about its charms, the view from the window of grey rooftops, pipes and vents, rather than the exciting buzz of the street that the Grafton calls home, it wasn't a great way to kick things off.

A tour of our home for the night then revealed the smaller quarters, function rooms, gym and a computer room with free internet access. Yet it also unveiled a suite - an empty one and surely a chance missed to butter up a press pack with the power to issue a post gladiatorial thumb up, or thumb down.

A stay of execution was afforded until dinner only to be told ten min-utes after ordering the venison that there was in fact none available. This would have been fine, if told before making my choice and equally fine if there had been a particular rush for the gamey dish. Alas not, as the dinning room was empty.

And though the wine did flow it was probably to mask the fact that my alternative choice of steak was tougher than a Tory tax cut.

Then again, with the culinary delights awaiting you beyond the hotel's threshold, you'd have to be an entirely unadventurous soul to want to stay put for food.

That is pretty much the equivalent of staring at a Hollywood waxwork when a short hop across town to Leicester Square they roll out the red carpet for the version with a pulse.

Easter fun for all the family

WHAT'S ON

EASTER MADNESS Wardown Park Museum, Old Bedford Road, Luton Wednesday, 10am - 3.30pm

LOOKING for ideas on what to do with the children over Easter? Look no further – go for a day out at Wardown Park Museum.

Join the museum for some Easter fun this week. The enjoyment starts on Wednesday and costs just £1.50 per child.

Children can decorate Easter cards, enjoy making Easter hats, bunny ears and baskets.

When they have finished the family can all get together and have a go at the museum's trail sheet. Try to find the mystery word, post your entry in the museum post box and you may be picked to win a prize. When the children have been creative, parents and grandparents can visit the museum's two fantastic new exhibitions.

Luton Photographs is an exhibition that gives you a chance to view some of the rarely seen photographs from the museum's archives of Luton's past.

Ancient Greeks is an exhibition based around the theme of sporting competition in the Greek world from the British Museum. The exhibition forms one of the largest selections of Greek artefacts ever lent by the British Museum.

If you need a small rest between all these activities on offer then why not have a cup of tea or coffee and a cake at the museum's tea room?

For a great day out visit Wardown Park Museum and to view more up and coming events visit www. wardownpark museum.com

N'Zogbia leaves Seasiders feeling sick

CHARLES N'ZOGBIA made one goal and scored another as Wigan moved out of the Premier League relegation zone with an impressive 3-1 win away at Blackpool, who slipped into the bottom three.

Wigan made a lively start and within three minutes had taken the lead as defender Craig Cathcart slipped and missed N'Zogbia's through-ball, allowing Hugo Rodallega to slot home his eighth goal of the season before the former Newcastle player doubled Wigan's advantage. Neal Eardley was the unlucky man credited with scoring an own goal for Wigan's third as

The current Premier League leaders took a stranglehold on the contest as soon as the polite opening exchanges had

That the Red Devils did not go in front during that prolonged period of dominance was due to a magnificent save from Joe Hart and a moment to forget for Berbatov, who scooped over from inside the six-vard box.

Hart was delighted with the outcome, saying: "It means the world, just look at us.

Turning to Toure's goal, coming on the back of a Michael Carrick error, Hart said: "It was a fantastic goal, he was fired up at half-time. He's an emotional guy and he lets his emotion show on the pitch."

Rovers boss Kennoy livid with referee's late penalty decision

ZAMARETTO DIVISION ONE CENTRAL BARTON ROVERS WOODFORD UNITED

BARTON lost in dramatic circumstances yesterday after conceding a penalty in the last minute of the match against Woodford United.
The game at Sharpenhoe Road had a distinct end-of-season feel about it with both sides creating next to nothing in the first half.

With Rovers firmly rooted in mid-table and Woodford just about in the top half of the division neither team had much to

However, with in the second half Rovers did start to fashion a few opportunities. On two separate occasions they rounded a hapless Woodford keeper and spurned chances to slot into an empty net.

The game was coming towards a end with Rovers and Woodford seemingly happy with a point apiece. Then with the final action of the second half a penalty was given for a deliberate handball from Rovers player Liam Deviert.

The decision came to the surprise of the Woodford side who did not initially appeal for a penalty.

However, the referee felt that Deviert handled deliberately after blocking a half-volley shot from just outside of the area in the penalty box.
The resulting penalty was dispatched with ease giving Woodford United a last gasp victory.

The final whistle then blew leaving

Rovers manager Dan Kennoy disappointed with the result.

"I can't see how the referee has awarded the penalty," he said. "Liam was just two yards away from the strike, how can a quick reaction like that be seen as deliberate?"

Barton Rovers now have two remaining games left before the season ends

FOOTBALL ROUND-UP

SOUTH MIDLANDS PREMIER DUNSTABLE TOWN AYLESBURY UNITED

A DEPLETED Dunstable side lost to local rivals Aylesbury yesterday. Town were without four first team defenders and it showed as they conceded two goals in the first 19 minutes from Craig Townsend and Ben Brains.

Dunstable got back into the tie just before the stroke of half-time with Jonathan Cooper scoring from the penalty spot. In the second half Town came out fighting and in the 49th minute Luke Lincoln scored a deserved equaliser for Dunstable. But with 20 minutes to go Aylesbury collected the winner through Brains with his second of the afternoon.

SOUTH MIDI ANDS LEAGUE DIVISION ONE

NEW BRADWELL ST PETER OAFC DUNSTABLE 3

AFC DUNSTABLE are very much in the hunt for automatic promotion place after an assured three-goal victory.

The first half started nervously for the visitors with a missed penalty in the 30th minute not helping matters.

However, in the second half Dunstable fought off the jitters.

Hayden Wills grabbed the first two via the penalty spot and a close-range effort.

Jermaine Hall ensured all three points in the 90th minute leaving Dunstable eight points clear of the chasing pack.

reeling and they were hammered 4-0 at home to local rivals TOTTERNHOE.

Caddington had right back Wayne O'Connor in between the posts for the first half with Daniel Flemming replacing him in the second half. Chris Golding and Adrian Millard beat O'Connor in the first half making it a solid 2-0 to the visitors at the break.

Flemming struggled just as much with Gary Karma and Golding finding the net to seal the result.

A MANIC first 20 minutes saw THE 61FC hammer Aston Clinton 4-1.
The visitors were 3-0 up inside this period with Chris Mapp and Oliver Goundry scoring, with Ryan Smith hitting a wonderous free kick.

On 44 minutes Aston had pulled one back before the break after 61FC were caught napping at the back post. In the 89th minute the visiting side sealed the points with Bradley Currington finding the bottom corner. The 61FC play Kent away on Wednesday.

Reynolds revved up for last eight clash

BOXING

A YOUNG protege of Graham Earl's continues his quest for his first title today, despite only having stepped in the ring five times.

Jordan Reynolds beat Matthew Roberts of Earlsfield ABC 14-4 on points in their three round Home Counties Amateur Boxing Association (ABA) Junior ABA pre-quarter final bout at The Regal in Oxford last Sunday to leave him only three fights from glory.

The Stevenage ABC teenager, who also trains at Earl's House of Champions gym in Luton, will now face Tadley and District ABC's Connor Hutchins in the quarter finals of the 61-63kg category this afternoon back at the scene of his last victory.

Former world champion turned-promoter and trainer Earl said: "This is a great achievement in itself. "Jordan has only had five fights and he is now up against boxers who have had between 20 and 50 matches." On his victory over Roberts last week, Reynolds said: "It was the first time I've faced a southpaw and he was awkward and speedy but punched like a girl.

"I was 9-2 up in the first round but I wasn't really in the zone and I should have stopped him."

With a place in the Junior ABA last four up for grabs today, the 15-year-old Barnfield South Academy pupil, said: "I'm really excited. I can't wait to get in there and "If I get through to the semis it will be a big achievement."

And the pugilist is undaunted by facing a taller, more experienced opponent in Hutchins.

"I'm going to get in there and suss him out. The last guy was taller than me but I'm hungry for this and I'm going to punch non-stop, pick my shots and hit him with some combinations

BLUE SQUARE BET PREMIER MANFIELD TOWN

LUTON will feel aggrieved not to have scored at Mansfield yesterday as they failed to turn their dominance into a first win at Field Mill since 1989.

Mansfield rarely threatened the Luton net throughout the 90 minutes with Mark Tyler hardly having a thing to do. But at the other end, Luton couldn't find the creative edge needed in the final third, despite frequent encouraging play in the build-up.

Mansfield perhaps had one eye on the FA Trophy final against Darlington at Wembley on May 7, but Luton couldn't take their revenge on the hosts who Luton couldn't take their revenge on the hosts who dumped them out at the semi-final stage.

Luton quickly got settled into a neat passing rhythm and it wasn't long before Alex Lawless sent Jason Walker scampering down the right and had it not been for a timely Steve Foster interception, Amari Morgan-Smith would have had a simple tap-in to put Luton in front.

The former Ilkeston hotshot continued to make a nuisance of himself as he hounded Tom Naylor, forcing the defender into a mistake that allowed him to round keeper David Grof - but the forward's touch was too heavy and when he eventually cut back inside from a narrow shooting position his effort was scuffed straight at the stopper.

Luton were almost caught napping in the 20th minute when it appeared that Paul Stonehouse had lost control of the ball out on the wing but, with a little help from the corner flag, the left back managed to keep the ball in play, cut back inside and fire a low drive which was blocked by Zdenek

Kroca.

The visitors continued to dominate though and almost took the lead after Jake Howells' cross fell to an unmarked Lawless, but the midfielder got the ball caught underneath his feet and was only able to produce a weak shot straight at Grof.

Despite all their attacking play, Luton were struggling to create a clear chance on goal and even when they had a three-on-three at the edge of the Mansfield box, they were restricted to a long-range attempt from Lawless that never threatened Grof.

Mansfield's defence was being battered and bruised – Foster, in particular, was making a number of vital blocks for the hosts – but when Lawless's cross was headed wide by Walker no defender was in sight and the forward will have been disappointed not to have hit the target. Manager Gary Brabin shuffled his attacking line at the break by bringing Matthew Barnes-Homer on in place of Morgan-Smith and the striker almost made an instant impact. Lawless picked up a poor Mansfield clearance and set up the top scorer whose 20-yard low drive required a brilliant save from Grof.

The second half was proving to be as frustrating as the first with Luton unable to penetrate the stern Mansfield defence. However, when Walker skipped round teh Stags' number one, following good work by Howells, it seemed Kroca might get an opportunity to head Luton in front. But the England C international's slightly delayed cross was just too high for the defender to control.

Then, Freddie Murray's long throw teed up Barnes-Homer for an acrobatic attempt but Grof, once again, saved well with his feet.

And the keeper was again tested moments later as Robbie Willmott shot from 20 yards.

But as the minutes ticked away, it looked more unlikely that Luton would find a winner with Mansfield starting to think they could steal the win. However, like their visitors, every time they charged forward they let themselves down with the final ball in the box.

Lawless had a great chance to win game late on but his low effort was clawed away by Grof and then Howells summed up Luton's frustration with a rash and over-hit blast from just outside the Mansfield

Walker then should have stolen all three points but couldn't keep his header down from a Lawless cross.

Fletcher picks Jubb for semi as England look to slay the Dragons

RUGBY UNION

TOM Jubb will start for England's Under-18 rugby side against Wales for their FIRA tournament semi-final at 5pm in the south of France this afternoon.

The Lutonion second row forward, who playes for Saracens and Oaklands College, has been a mainstay in head coach John Fletcher's Red Rose squad this season in what has been a mixed campaign, enjoying wins against Ireland and Italy earlier in the year before suffering a 26-21 defeat against Scotland just over two weeks ago in Leeds.

A win against the Welsh would take England into the final of the competition against either Ireland or hosts France on Saturday, April 23 in Tarbes.

Speaking ahead of the game Fletcher said: "We've got a few players missing due to injury but the lads that have come in are all top players and they'll be fine. I'm happy with the squad and we'll be looking to put in a big performance against Wales

"It was disappointing to lose to Scotland but I'm keen to see how we bounce back." He believes that past form will go out the window and was keen to stress that it will go down to who performs on the day.

"Wales are a good side. They lost their first game of the season against France and have got stronger and stronger since then. We know that it'll be a tough game, but we've prepared well and I'm confident we can live up to our own expectations when the whistle blows on Saturday

■TWO Dunstablians Rugby Club youngsters have been selected for separate England U16 sides and will play in the annual Wellington Festival in Berkshire which starts

Reece Marshall is in the England Reds squad to face Canada in the opening match, while Clark Davidson has been picked for England Blues against the hosts.

Errors and a sin-binning leave Luton with too much to do

NATIONAL THREE MIDLANDS LUTON RUGBY

LUTON paid for a series of defensive errors yesterday as they lost to Broadstreet in a tough away game. Luton started brilliantly and could have scored a try in the first minute however Pepe Nanci failed to offload the ball in time for the crucial first score.

But the full back put Luton ahead with a quick penalty before Broadstreet equalised in the same manner. The sides exchanged penalties again before Luton's Nick Stevens was sin-binned for kicking the ball away on the floor.

This was the turning point in the game and Broadstreet took advantage of the extra man by scoring and converting two quick tries in the 28th and 32nd minutes, leaving Luton 18-6 down.

Before the end of the second half Luton rallied though and Alex Sutherland burst through the Broadstreet backline. This was converted by Nanci leaving Luton just two points adrift at half-time.

The visitors were looking to turn the tide in the second half but it was Broadstreet who furthered their points tally when former Luton player Oliver Marchom jinked his way through a lacklustre

Luton battled to stay in the game and on the 60th minute Mike Weston crossed over for a try, converted by Nanci to leave the tie 25-23 with all to play for. But Broadstreet pulled away after the hour with a penalty, followed up by a converted try on the 71st minute which sealed the win by the flattering margin of

POOL

THE Bedfordshire County Pool youth team continued its excellent start to the season with a 27-17 win over their closest rivals, Norfolk last Sunday.

After demolishing Cambridge and Suffolk – the top two teams from last season – they played Norfolk, who had also won their first two matches of the

The win was inspired by a record number of players who went unbeaten with Fintan McCann (Bedford), Josh Riddaway (Greenfield), Chris Wells (Luton), Liam Murnane (Dunstable) and Adam Toms (Brogborough) winning all four of their frames. McCann, in only his fifth match for the youth team, underlined his quick development with his first clean sweep of the the frames which saw him named man-of-the-match. The event also saw the debut of Jake Baldwin (Dunstable).

The result also means that the Bedfordshire players dominate the rankings and the race for England trials going into the next match away at Essex.

MIDLANDS TWO EAST (SOUTH) LEICESTER FOREST STOCKWOOD PARK

THIS was an unlucky ending to the season as Park were robbed of victory by a late try.

Stockwood, who have secured their place in Division Two for next season, took control of the game at the beginning with Gareth Jones and Aaron Waterfield both scoring and Paul Harman converting one.

But the hosts fought back and at the halfway mark it was tied 15-15 after a Harman penalty.

Leicester scored an immediate second half try to go in front but James Hanky then broke through to touch down and Harman converted to keep it tied 22-22. Both sides were going for the win and with two minutes remaining Hanky put Martin Rowe through to give them the lead. But a debatable try from the hosts in the dying second left Stockwood with only two losing bonus points. Stockwood play Biggleswade in the Beds Senior Trophy Final on Saturday at Biggie's Langford Road ground, kick off 3pm.

New boss Brabin has made Luton stars bond together

STALEMATE: Amari Morgan-Smith fires in a speculative effort at Mansfield yesterday

DAN GLEESON has claimed that there is a greater sense of togetherness in the Luton Town dressing room since manager Gary Brabin took over from Richard Money.

Gleeson played under Brabin at former club Cambridge United and has said that one of the manager's main goals is to get his players enjoying the game more and that a recent team bonding session has got the players playing in Gleeson said: "I think we're going in the right direction. Unbeaten in six, I know it's a lot of draws, but we've had a few games away from

"I think he [Brabin] is trying to install more togetherness as a team and we've had a few days out here and there.

We've been out for lunch plus this, that and the other and he's just trying to get that belief back in the team.

'The fans will see that in the previous few games we were maybe lacking in confidence and the manager is now trying to install this confidence in the players.

"We're all good enough otherwise we wouldn't be here.

"It's just about trying to get that belief back in the players and once it's there again I think we'll go on a run again.

"The main thing, week in and week out, is to enjoy yourself.

"If you're not enjoying yourself you are not going to play well and that's what he is trying to get across to us.

The play-offs can be a bit of a lottery but I fancy us against anyone in the league on any given day.

'We've got the players in the team and the belief back in us that we can go on and I'm very, very confident that we can go on and do

Gleeson's optimism is echoed by team mate Keith Keane, back from illness after missing out on the trip to Crawley in midweek, but the midfielder has admitted that the lack of victories has been frustrating.

"It's only frustrating in the way that we haven't won," said Keane.

"I don't know what everybody else thinks but I think the majority of the players are happy with the way that they've played.

"Maybe not for the whole 90 minutes but for Maybe not for the whole 90 limites but for the majority of the game, the lads and the manager are happy with the way we've played. "If you're happy with the way that you're playing, it's only a matter of time before the wins start to come."

Evans' Hatters jibe is a load of clap trap

GARY Brabin has poured cold water on claims by Crawley boss Steve Evans that Luton purposefully refused to give a guard of honour to his Conference champions by revealing that Town were told not to.

His Reds counterpart slammed the Hatters for not clapping his men onto the pitch before the two clubs played out a 1-1 draw on Tuesday, only days after the Sussex outfit were crowned winners of the Blue Square Bet Premier.

After the game the fiery Scot said: "I did expect the players of Luton Town to give my players a guard of honour on to the pitch at the start of a wonderful night, but obviously they were told not to do that.

"I know a number of the Luton players personally and I know what was said to them about a guard of honour, but I won't compromise them or embarrass the individuals concerned.

"It is disappointing to say the least but it won't change where we are heading next

"Luton Town are the giant football club in the Blue Square Bet Premier and they should help set the standards.

"They have the most fantastic supporters and had it been reversed and they were champions, they would have expected it from us. The difference is we would have done it."

But Town manager Brabin has refuted Evans' claims by saying: "We made a few inquiries as to what was supposed to be happening before the game.

"We were up front and honest enough to do anything.

"I've only really known Premier League clubs to do a guard of honour.

"We asked the question and it was us who brought it up.

"A lot was made of it but we were told no. I thought we were quite respectful and I went out of my way to congratulate Steve.

"I think we all know that they probably wanted to make a something out of it. "On the day, they celebrated and I thought we were very professional."

Boulengerochromis microlepis is the world's largest cichlid species.

A beautiful Bolt cat, Aguarunichthys torosus, and adult at 34cm.

What we think
The biggest Maidenhead Aquatics store, this shop has loads of tanks and wooden cabinets for sale and what feels like acres of associated dry goods for aquariums and ponds, together with a huge outdoor section.

However, what did it for me was the fish. It felt like everyone was catered for, with oddballs, Discus, African cichlids, Central American cache to, with odubals, Discus, Antical rutings, Central America cichlids, dwarf cichlids, killfish, L-number catfish, rainbowfish, marines and everything in between. Oddballs, for those who like big boys, included Asian arowana, a Lince cat, stingrays and the world's largest cichlid from Lake Tanganyika.

The tanks were all clean, fish healthy and well fed, and the longer I stayed the more I saw and wanted to buy. This is the sort of shop where you could go with a wish list of the fish you wanted and find them all — plus so much more. A visit here makes you want to set up even more tanks!

Independent retailers and competitors say that because of Maidenhead's 100-store size it has an unfair advantage, but on the day of our visit, and at that particular time, this store's fish selection was not only the best I had seen at any Maidenhead, it was the best I had seen in England. This is a five-star shop and definitely the one the rest have to beat!
